

Crackle AI - Topic Segmentation

Hi, Harshit

Video Uploaded: Data Structures Lec1.mp4

Suggested Title: Introduction to Linked List

Start

00:32

01:56

03:40

04:12

08:33

End

Array versus Linked List

An array is a big chunk of memory in which memory is divided into small-small blocks, and each block is capable of storing some value.
A linked list is the collection of nodes that are randomly stored. Each node consists of two fields, i.e., data and link.